Building an Inclusive Church

Summer Bible Study—God and the Gay Christian Sunday mornings, 10 a.m., June 24-July 29, Room 108

FUMC believes that God's love and grace extends to all! In an effort to be welcoming to all, we are exploring the process of becoming a Reconciling Congregation.

We invite you to a book and video study called God and the Gay Christian, exploring a well-written and popular book by Matthew Vines. This study examines Biblical passages relating to homosexuality. This is a discussion and people with a variety of opinions are welcomed without judgment. Please come explore this issue with us!

For more information about the class, contact Diana Dickey at dianadickey@hotmail.com. For information on the book, visit www.reformationproject.org

Family Matters Evolving

Re-Thinking the Family Matters Group

A planning group met recently to discuss ideas for the FUMC Sunday morning group known as Family Matters. Originally set up for families with young children, some of us have been meeting together for 20 years or more. We are thinking of ways to keep the class interesting, helpful, and relevant to our lives now as Christians in a changing, stressful world.

Since most of us have aged out of the "young family" stage, we looked at refocusing our time together. We want to look at and discuss a wide range of issues. Some suggested topics are:

- "Are you an 'Accidental Saint' or Sinner?" - a look at an unusual approach to reaching out to traditionally "non-churched" people
- A discussion of the book Evicted: Poverty and Profit in the American City, by Matthew Desmond
- A review of the theology of End Times and its implications for the world.

Anyone is welcome, and suggestions for topics and people to lead them are always welcome. Look for more information to come! You can also email kaltst@q.com for more information.

A Job Change for Our Youth Intern

This June marked the end of the second intern year for Christopher Frost.

Christopher leading games at a 2017 youth event.

Christopher has been a great asset to our youth ministry team, leading games at youth group, teaching Sunday School, and making time to build strong relationships with our youth. He has been a blessing to our youth and our congregation.

We learned recently of the good news that Christopher has been hired as the Youth and Family Director at Morningside UMC, which means that even though his role will change, he will still be a part of the Open Door Youth Ministry.

Thank you, Christopher, for your time as an intern and congratulations on the next part of your journey of ministry.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

	Budget 2018	April 2018	May 2018	Year to Date	33.33% of Budget
Total Income	$ 560,068.00	$ 49,710.39	$ 48,750.26	$ 239,725.89	42.80%
Total Expenses	$ 564,994.00	$ 46,913.06	$ 45,722.82	$ 236,535.36	41.87%

Notes from the Finance Committee

We are so fortunate for our generous congregation and currently your Finance Committee's duty is monitoring our expenses and watching our revenue flow. Some thoughts:

Our year-to-date general giving as a congregation has for the first time this year passed our budget year-to-date. Great news! Here are some highlights:

- In May our income has exceeded our expenses by $3,027 putting us $3,200 ahead of budget year-to-date through May.
- Church building utility expense has come down - I believe because of longer daylight hours and warmer weather.
- Building rental income year-to-date continues to run above year-to-date budget.
- The pending staffing change will create some variance to the budget, but that is yet to be determined. Factors like how long position is open or if it will be exactly the same are unknown right now.
- With the recent water issues, (thanks to the staff for keeping us hydrated) we have signed up for a service so our staff doesn't have to buy and then haul bottled water.

Thank you all for your contributions and volunteering! If anyone has any questions about the budget, please feel free to contact me.

Open Door Churches of Salem-Keizer—A New Way of Being in the World

Sarah Katreen Hoggatt, Communications, Open Door Churches

When you go from being single to being in a relationship, you quickly learn that decisions are no longer made the way they once were. Instead of one calendar to check, there are two. Instead of simply taking care of oneself, there is someone else to consider and care for who also wants to care for you. Such a relationship can be a huge adjustment that takes time, thought, and effort, but there is that voice in our hearts, the love and joy that keeps us coming back to work at it together and to find a new way of being ourselves in this world.

See, I am doing a new thing!
Now it springs up;
do you not perceive it?
I am making a way
in the wilderness
and streams in the wasteland.

-Isaiah 43:19

Open Door Churches: A New Way - In this way, we as Open Door Churches are in a relationship with each other and are finding new ways to be ourselves in this world. We are learning about the gifts we each bring to this community, are learning to work together on projects, ministries, and events. Friendships are being made and we are learning to care for people we didn't know before. This has brought a richness into our lives, a joy in the knowledge we are a wider community stretching across the miles of Salem-Keizer and that we are not in this alone.

New Decision Making - To guide our decision making as we navigate this still-new relationship, Open Door Churches has a board made up of representatives from each congregation that meets once a month throughout our six churches. It's a caring group of people who are listening deeply, imaging a new way of being, and learning from each other how to be Open Door Churches.

Pastors and Congregations - One of the biggest tasks the board has undertaken is to imagine and put into action a new kind of relationship between pastors and congregations. Instead of having one pastor per church as we've had before, now each congregation has five people to serve, lead, and with whom to do ministry. To further develop this new way of being and serving, Alyssa, Dan, Sandy, and Wendy are going to all be preaching this summer during a special sermon series on Ephesians so we can all get to know each of them better. It's a new way of doing church, an out-of-the-box way of doing things that is very much needed in a time and culture that no longer plays by the same rules.

Updates! - It's an exciting time for us! No longer limited to how things have been done before, we can dream up with God something entirely new and incredible. We can be a community that sticks by one another, encouraging our gifts and questions as we learn to walk this new road together and reach out to the wider communities around us. To help us do that, here is what the board is working on right now:

- Worship and Community Picnic - We're gathering on Sunday, September 9, at Riverfront Park for worship outdoors and a community picnic afterwards.
- Intercultural competency, communications, and community - We want to know how we can be a community that celebrates diversity and comes together with the gifts of our commonalities and differences. The board now has representatives from Las Naciones! Las Naciones has been growing and is almost ready to charter as a new United Methodist Church congregation!

Let's dream together what Open Door Churches can do and become!

Open Door Young Adults Are Planning a Retreat—Pastor Alyssa

It has been a great joy to lead the young adult group this year. As the young adult pastor I have had the pleasure of seeing relationships formed and community built as they explore questions of faith.

This summer the young adults would like to go on a 2-day retreat to the coast in August to continue forming their connections with one another and grow in their faith. To provide this opportunity to the young adult community, we are looking for your support. Would you be willing to invest in the young adults financially? Do you know of or have a place where 10 young adults could stay? Or would you be willing to provide them with meals for the retreat? Please prayerfully consider supporting the young adult group.

If you are able to support the young adult group, please contact me at alyssabaker08@gmail.com. Thank you for your continued support of the Open Door Church Young Adults.

Open Door Churches Worship & Celebration Sunday, September 9 Riverfront Park

Are you interested in being a part of the planning team? Call the church office at 503-364-6709 to get your name on a volunteer list.

UMW Mission Giving Makes Mission Happen — Adapted from Response magazine, February 2018 (Part one - part two of this article continues in the August Spire newsletter.)
